

78

When you accept to look with eyes of Spirit and see purity and holiness, then you will love with the Love of God; for He placed a part of his own Heart in yours, and you will feel Him loving through you. You are a participant, and your brothers are as dear to you as they are to Him. They will know you are Christ because they will feel you, experience you, see you, as Christ. They will love and appreciate you, even as you love and appreciate Jesus. You are a doorway through which God flows to them. When the chitchat of social exchange ceases and God speaks through you, they will become quiet, for they will know they are touched by God. This is possible because you accepted the death of the ego. The stillness of heaven is descended upon you—the Peace of God.

Always when a brother attempts to attack, he is crying out for acknowledgment of his purity and worthiness of respect and honor. When you look past the façade straight into My Spirit within him, you supply his greatest need. If you become defensive, you have dishonored him. If you ask Me, I will remind you to choose to see Truth, to choose to offer Love and appreciation, to choose to remain in My Peace. I am ever attentive unto you. I will not forsake you.

80

I am always there guiding you and preparing the way for you. This is because you asked Me to do it and you have accepted to go and do whatever I deem to be appropriate. You asked to do whatever is the most beneficial for the Sonship at this time of harvest. You chose the Sonship over expression of beauty and creativity because of your concern for those who are suffering and crying for help. I know that you will follow Me anywhere because you trust Me and love Me above all else. I am your deepest Joy. I find your love as irresistible as you find Mine. I am committed to you. Your choice was freely made, but very important. Now you only need to await My bidding.

I am always there ready to lead you as swiftly as you are willing and able to go. I am gentle. I know that some of the things you have to release are difficult to let go of, but I also know how much greater your joy and peace will be when you are free. It is through the healing of your relationships with your brothers that you realize that the holiness you see in them is also welling up within you. It is the divine spark within you that recognizes the Purity and Light within them. I participate in each holy embrace and extension of Love, for it brings Me great joy. You know My Presence and know that when you call upon Me, I am there. You are free from worries and concerns because you now trust Me. Practice abiding in Me at all times. My Peace is sweet and gentle, and it is your gift to your brothers when you rest in Me.

As you look about you, you see the stress and struggle of those who identify solely with their bodies, but you have noticed that the tension and fear become less and less as you shift your identification away from the body and toward Spirit. You could never do this without experiencing Spirit. Belief alone is not sufficient. As you bring this experience to your brothers by embracing them in spirit, they too are released. As fear decreases, joy and peace increase, and you know heaven on earth. Every time you look with the eyes of spirit and see holiness, you bring light that shines away more of the darkness. Always keep your true function in mind. This is why you are here at this time. Distractions waste time and make you weary. You are not tired or bored when you rest in Me. You are happy anywhere.

When you look into a brother's heart and rejoice in the Light you see there, you begin to dissolve the veil that prevents him from seeing it himself. As he becomes aware of his Light and begins to experience it, it dissolves the veil at its root, and soon it will collapse. Symptoms of sickness may continue for a while, but you have planted the seed of Light that will bring about wholeness. Each time you visit his heart, you divert his attention away from his idea of himself as not being whole and point it toward his perfection. Visit your brothers often! It will bring you great joy.

The eternal offering of My Spirit is more easily accessed on earth at this time for all who have even a small inclination to accept. The heaviness of earth is giving way to a lighter up-buoying of the spirit of each one. Darkness and ignorance can no longer hide My Light and Love. Each experience of communing with Me dissolves eons of misperception of earth and earth dwellers. The revelation of Truth removes ignorance and brings clarity to the minds of those who will accept it. Allow My Light to shine forth from you so that others may see and know the way of joy and cease to stumble in confusion. You need only accept, and I will take charge of every detail. It is also your blessing and your salvation that is reaped along the way of service to your brothers.

Go and do as it has been imparted unto you.

86

I came to show you the way of Truth, Light, and Love, and I will assist you in the process of remembering who you and your brothers really are. I have given you the easiest and most effective method of accomplishing this remembrance, and I have told you that you need only bring willingness to the altar of your heart and I will do the rest. It takes so little to enter the gates of heaven; actually, the requirement is the most joyous and loving thing you could possibly do. Your only resistance is fear. Now, you do trust Me, so why does some remnant of fear still remain? It is just an old habit formed in ignorance. Watch your thought habits so that you not be robbed of glorious joy. Remember, being on earth is much like playing a role in fearful scenes on a stage. You know you are quite safe because it is all make-believe. Pause a moment and open the doors of your heart so that I may enter and embrace you. I joy in you!

When you, in your mind, unbind your brothers of sickness and imbalance, ignorance and illusions, by seeing them as pure, holy, whole, and free, you do unbind them literally [see Matt 16:19]. You convince them simply by reminding them of Truth. Freedom is so joyful it makes their hearts sing. You do what I did on earth. How else could you accept your divine Sonship and know that you are the Light of the world? [See Matt 5:14.] You now know the greatest gift that you can give another.

88

Your brothers are grateful to you for your confidence in them, your total love and appreciation of their beauty. They appreciate your reminding them of their natural expressions of exuberant joy. It helps them to let go of their feelings of inadequacy and helplessness. I also thank you for going from heart's door to heart's door and kindling the fire of hope, joy, and love. Your reward is immediate, for their acceptance of your love causes great waves of joy to rush from your heart. Their embrace is a special treat. Is there any other calling for you?

Seek first to see holiness and allow My Love to flow through you to your brothers, and all other blessings flow as a result of the clear and open vessel. Blessings and Love cannot flow if the vessel is obstructed. I need open vessels through which I can pour My abundance. The holy embrace is the key that unlocks the door to all blessings. As long as a heart's door remains closed, the blessings can only pile up before it. Part of your task is to coax the soul and gain its trust so that it will dare to open the door. You are a bearer of divine gifts. Be mindful of this. Do not neglect a single soul. Be vigilant of your thoughts. Your task is a full-time job. Thought-wandering causes withholding of gifts, for it clogs the vessel. Love your brothers as much as I love you!

You have compassion for your brothers in their suffering. It is surely helpful to assist in any way possible on the earth level, but always keep in mind that true assistance begins at the root of their suffering, namely, their forgetfulness of their true identity as a part of God, Pure and Holy. They would not experience suffering if they felt safe in My arms. Remember to speak to the soul of its innocence and purity as you assist in other ways. The mundane situation was the excuse for bringing you together with your brother, but the task, the real opportunity at hand, is always the embrace of the soul, for it expresses your genuine appreciation and delight. Heaven kisses earth with each holy embrace. Look for opportunities to fulfill your true function.

Dedicating your total being to perfect alignment with My Will allows Me to assist you in recognizing My Will and in releasing any thought habits, desires, plans, or ideas that are sidetracking and delaying you. Your freedom is always honored, and I will not force you, but your decision opens the door to Me. Now, don't presume to already know My Will, but allow Me to make it known to you and to lead you perfectly. Trust Me totally to prepare the way I would have you go and to provide abundantly for all needs.

There are times when I bring your brothers to you because they need to hear words of instruction while you are acknowledging their holiness. You don't need to be concerned about the message they need. Just relax and allow Me to speak through you. I will give you the message at the right time. Be not concerned if it is short. You do not need to add to it. I know best what they need. Be also attentive to messages I give to you through casual contact with others. I speak to you in everything. You are as close to Me on earth as in heaven.

93

When you see My Light in everything around you, you realize that you will never have a need that is not fulfilled. You will cease to doubt, and the door is opened for My bounty to flow and manifest your desires. When you see My Light and feel My Love in all around you, you will cease to fear and worry. You will trust that My Light is reality and that My Love brings only goodness to you. When fear is gone, the door is open so that ceaseless blessings may flow to your fellowman, as well as so that you may know only Joy and Love. I will glide through the world as you, experiencing delight on every side. Come, dear child, you are almost there. Just a little step and you are in My Arms forever.

94

When you look upon the throngs of your brothers and see My Light in each, it is as if you were gazing into the night sky. Each brother is a brilliant, sparkling Light, the beauty of which inspires you to appreciation that brings warmth into your heart and a glow to your eyes. As you gaze in wonder, the world of competition and threat disappears, and you seek your brothers because they bring you joy, rather than seek to avoid them because of the pain they once seemed to cause you. In this moment of pure Love your salvation is come. You forget the ideas, scenes, and projects that once occupied you endlessly and robbed you of your Peace. When you accept your brother totally and enter his heart, you also enter My embrace. Your brother's heart is the doorway to Me. You need no longer seek elsewhere, for seeking elsewhere you seek in vain. The search is over, and you are at home.

95

No blessing you allow to flow through you to a brother is without effect, and your brothers are grateful to you that you love them and trust that they are holy. Each awakening act you allow brings Me great joy, for I see the quickening of My Light in them. I will bring more and more to you so that they, you, and I can rejoice. My plan for salvation is perfect because it never involves force or threat. It is accomplished by the will-to-joy of My children—who cannot resist total Love forever. The pain of error will cause them to welcome Love and freedom. Your role is important, My child. Be ever mindful of this!

96

To know My Love, seek it in another. By offering it, you experience it. To know Joy, seek My Light in a brother. By accepting to find it, you will know it. To know Peace, seek holiness in every heart. By expecting only this you dwell in it. The choice is totally yours, and you now know it. You have no fear of what you will find because you have always found what you looked for. The experience of this has caused your love for your brothers to be unconditional. Because you agreed to become empty, you are now filled. It is I in you manifesting Myself so that I can bless My children through human contact. A new age is upon you—an age of outpouring of My Spirit bounteously. Give all, and you are blessed limitlessly.

You know when your brothers respond to your love because you feel the love they extend to you and you sense the light they radiate. It is those who are fearful or doubtful who resist and give you no response, but out of love, dedication, and commitment you stand at each heart's door and patiently, day after day, speak to them of holiness. It takes limitless love to continue doing this when you don't sense a response, but this is your task, and you are perfectly suited to the job. It is My Love that is in your heart, by invitation from you. You can never fail, for I will not fail you. Remember, seeds are sown, then they sprout, take root, and grow. The harvest always comes in due time, at the perfect time. Your only function is to be at all times available to love and to appreciate. It really is so easy, and the results are richly rewarding. All is perfect, dear one, and you rest in My heart forever.

It is My Will to go to My children as you and bless them with My Light and Love. It is not arrogance for you to approach a brother's heart's door and say, "I bring you the Father's Light and Love," for you truly do this by being My empty vessel. You bring them healing, comfort, hope, and inspiration from Me. It is your calling to do this without hesitation. It comes naturally to you, and you will feel comfortable doing it. The Flame of Love is lit in your heart. Your personal desires and ambitions are consumed. They have no power to sway you anymore. This is My gift to you—that which you asked for. Nothing will stand in the way to prevent you from doing My Will. Where I lead you, the way is prepared. I also give you My Peace.

When the Father's Will for you is specific, you will surely know, and you will surely do it. Often the Father's Will is simply to be the pure, empty vessel through which His Spirit can flow unobstructed and without shading. There are many pursuits that can be the means of anchoring the Light in the earth, and you may choose the form or forms through which you allow Divine Love, Joy, Peace, and Beauty to flow and bless the world. It is your intent, your total dedication to the Divine, that is of utmost importance. You have already made this choice; the form is of your own choosing for fun and delight.

100

The desire to bring inspiration to your brothers by touching their souls deeply with Love is itself all that is needed to allow Me to bring it about. The desire to assist in awakening your brothers shows you have accepted My Will as your will and begun the ascent to realization of holiness. Communion with Me becomes natural. It also becomes your greatest desire. The worldly view can no longer lure you from My arms, and you can only tolerate looking upon the world by seeing it as Me. Pain and suffering in the world will draw you because you have the balm to soothe and heal the loneliness and fear that cause them. You are a fountain through which I pour nourishing waters to the world. Give thanks for the opportunity to participate.

101

Be cautious that you not be deceived by perceived sickness in your brothers. You assist in their liberation when you see only Me in them. This is their salvation, and it is yours also. Wholeness and perfection are all there is. Do not give power to error by accepting it as something that needs to be corrected. It is only a misperception. I will not fail to accept every true blessing you offer for a brother. Anything less would be a disservice to you and him.

There is sometimes a need for a brother to experience suffering so that he is brought to the point of making a choice for God. Complacency does not urge one to give up false values and identification. You find it painful to watch a brother in pain, but you must allow him to make his own choice. Would you prolong his deep sleep by arranging constant comfort for him? No, you make the right choice by speaking to his heart and urging him to look toward Me, accept that he is not identified with his body, and accept that he is forever safe as a part of Me, no matter what appears to be happening. You stood by your brother's side and led him through this, and you felt his joy as he trusted you and looked straight into My eyes. Dear child, your love and concern for your brothers will always lead you to the right action as long as you ask Me for help. I even stand by you as you wring your hands while you watch your brothers procrastinate and prolong their suffering. I understand your concern, for I also must stand by and wait, but I am happy to have another empty vessel dedicated to My children. Even as you stand by and watch, never turn away because of the pain it causes you, but continue to offer Love to your brothers. Your own happiness depends on your commitment to them.

Salvation is a realization. Your task is to offer Love and to assist in bringing Me to remembrance. It is all so easy and joyous. Just think: no fasts, no ascetic disciplines, no denial of joy and love, and no sacrifice required. I love My children and do not punish or deprive them. There is no need to suffer. I stand with arms filled to overflowing with gifts of Love and Joy. All you have to do is ask, and I will teach you how to accept every gift held in store for you. Come!

104

When you trust in Me and feel secure in Me, you will see each situation you encounter as an adventure you are taking with Me. You will not fear the outcome or feel threatened in any way. You will wait for Me to show you the way to proceed, and you will see Me on every side. Your heart will be overflowing with joy, for you will have My Peace within. My Love will flow through you in mighty waves that touch and heal your brothers, but you will never be empty.

I am always the same, and I always ask the same of you. Seek only Holiness in the heart of your brothers. Put aside the old habit of seeking that which you can condemn in them, for it has never brought you Joy, Peace, or the experience of Love. It only brings self-loathing. Reach out in spirit, and caress your brothers, touch in admiration, seek their presence for the joy of beholding Purity and Beauty. They will bless you immeasurably. You will find Me revealed in them, and the glory you look upon will cause your fears and defenses to melt into nothingness—and you will know that you have entered the gates of heaven. Stand by your brothers faithfully in their sorrows, sufferings, and struggles, even as I have stood by you. You must never give up on a brother, for he depends on you. He may procrastinate, but when he is in agony, you will feel his spirit come to you because he remembers that you offered him Love before. When he comes, he will surely accept your embrace, and in your joy you will know you are both lifted into My arms. Soon you will hear the calls of brothers in distant lands and respond without delay, overjoyed at the opportunity of experiencing another holy embrace.

This, My child, is why you are on earth. I send you forth girded with Love, Joy, and Peace to gather in the wandering ones who will come. Be ever mindful of the importance and consequences of this charge.

Every time you have a decision to make, stop and ask Me, “How can I best offer Love and acknowledgment of Holiness to this person or situation?” When you have the answer, all else falls into place. This is your purpose in being on earth, your function. As you engage in action, ask that all beings affected be touched by Divine Love. Your intent is powerful. Each time you fail to do this you have neglected an opportunity to shorten the remaining time of suffering and sleep of your brothers. Be mindful of this! Remember Me and your brothers.

107

The greatest gift ever given, shining brightly and serenely as any morning star, is yours to behold, gently laid in your brother’s heart. It surpasses all beauty you have ever known and has the power to bestow on you limitless blessings from Eternity. Open your eyes and look in wonder and delight. No being, earthly or celestial, ever beheld holiness surpassing that which you may, simply by choice, look upon. You may stand in the Presence of the glorious Creator simply by releasing your judgments of your brother. In him the blessed Father waits patiently for your embrace. No other joy can fulfill your heart’s desire. The banquet table is set and waiting for your arrival. Tarry no longer, My child!

108

It is My Will that every child of Mine sing with the joy of life as the Morning Stars sang at the dawn of creation. This is why you are asked to participate in the task of awakening the slumbering souls. When the joy of being is brought to their remembrance, they will not be able to resist singing to express their delight. They will not understand how they once succumbed to the illusions of sorrow and fear; in fact, the memory of it will melt into nothingness. Your brothers will trust you and follow you when you put your arm around their shoulders and bring them to Me yourself, one by one. It is your love that draws them and melts their resistance. Love is My gift to you and your gift to them. This is your provision for the task. It is all you need, for it is the gift of Me. In My Light Truth is seen, and the darkness of illusions of fear disappears.

109

Be ever mindful that your brother waits for you. He has stumbled in darkness for ages and is weary. He may not rush into your arms immediately, but he does wait for you. The appropriate expression of your love and compassion is simply to see only Holiness and extend only Love. It really is so simple, compared to the many complicated things you have tried to do in the name of spirituality. Do not allow distractions to deter or delay you. Nothing else ever brought you such joy.

110

I promised you rest if you came to Me [see Matt 11:28]. When you look only upon Holiness, you have rest, and you have release from fear and the desire to reject your brother. Is this not a wonderful gift? A Divine Gift? You rest in My Heart forever. You also carry with you this precious gift, for you are a gift-bearer. You are a balm to a suffering world, and what you bring your brothers is the most priceless gift there is. Many have traveled to the ends of the earth and searched in vain for this Gift of God. Show your gratitude by sharing it every day, wherever you go. You only receive as you give, for Love must flow through you. You have the answer to the quest of many lifetimes. With knowledge and gifts from God comes responsibility. Be not idle. Your brothers call to you even now. I send you to them.

111

The world becomes transformed as you look upon it with Love, and your mind is transformed along with it. Through the efforts of My vessels, the earth is becoming more and more surrounded by Light. Your brothers will begin to notice this and be influenced by it. One day all judgment will cease in the Light of Holiness. Be committed each day to your contribution.

I am the same forever. You are a part of Me; therefore, you are also the same forever. There is nothing for you to do but to look upon Me in all that you see, and feel the holiness within you respond to the holiness in all around you. This experience is the ultimate joy—the only joy you can ever have. When you and all whom you see respond to each other only in Love, you will know that you are eternally locked in an embrace of Love. The realization of this is your fulfillment, your destiny. Everywhere you look I give Myself to you. You will know this when you allow Me to give Myself through you, but you will not allow it to happen unless you think the world around you is worthy of receiving it. This only happens when you accept to see nothing but holiness.

You have asked and agreed to help your brothers in the most helpful and effective way. Now, release all things to Me and allow Me to decide in what way and under what circumstances you can best assist in the harvest. I will not fail, and I will not forget you or your brothers. Be joyful in all things at all times; otherwise, you close the door on blessings I have prepared for you and your brothers. I place you with those who will accept, eventually if not immediately, the Love you allow to flow through you to them. To doubt the value or effectiveness of your life is to doubt My Love and Wisdom. Relax, My child. Keep your mind on Me. Talk to Me. Send your love to Me. In this way you make it possible for Me to bless you and your brothers fully and perfectly. The challenge of earth is to look through every form and situation and see Me and My Light shining through to bless and comfort you. It is a matter of not being distracted or deceived by forms. Allow yourself to be consumed with love for Me, and the focus of your attention cannot stray from Me.

114

Love is the lifeline, and the Love you extend to your brother when you think of him may be the saving hand that brings him from the slough of despond, the pit of hopelessness. You must always be available and never, ever, think something else is more important than the call for help you may hear as you drive to work, take a shower, or do your work. Do not take lightly the task I have given you. Enter the stillness again and again all through the day, for it provides the sustenance you and your brothers need from Me. When your brother is walking through his darkest night and you join him, radiant with joy that you have found him, he will embrace you and cling to you in spirit, when he in body might hesitate. Travel often to your brothers in spirit, for going in spirit is the path of expedience to them. All he truly wants is love and acceptance, recognition of his worth and innocence. You have the balm. It is the greatest gift you could receive. Let it not collect dust.

115

Extend Love to those who lead and influence the societies of the world. Speak to them in spirit of their holy function, and accept to see only Me in them. Do not speak to the appearance of other than holiness. If you focus only on Me in them, you will experience Me responding to you. The veil of darkness your brother presents will become thinner and thinner as you look through it and coax forth the Light. No man is lost forever. He may stumble in the darkness, but he can be reached. I send you to him to reach through the clouds and touch him, to fold him into your heart. He cries for help. Do you not hear him? He waits for you to allow Me, as you, to greet him.

Each time you commune with Me and see only Me all about you, you make it easier for your brothers to also make the choice for love. Your own choice touches all brothers' hearts and helps to bring their reality close to realization in their consciousness. At this time I have many vessels on earth doing this in order to make the harvest easier and greater. Do your own part faithfully. The power of all Light-bearers together tugs at the hearts of all brothers and draws them closer and closer to My Light. Always, Love is the key, the magnet. No one can resist it forever. Every brother is worthy of your patience. Do not pass a single one by.

Offer Love, honor, and appreciation to Me in your brothers, but do not concern yourself with the results. Leave results to Me. If you judge perceived results, you will begin to judge the appropriateness of your continuing to offer recognition of Pure Love. I ask for total, unconditional Love to be extended to every brother. If your gift is not total, it is not a gift but rather an attempt at exchange and bargain, and your brothers will recognize the emptiness and pretense. It is only I in your brother Who respond to the perfect gift. The façade of personality will not recognize it. You must give totally and withhold nothing in order to be of assistance in the harvest. When you make your gift to Me, I will respond, and all else arranges itself appropriately.
