MESSAGE FOR A FRIEND

This my dear son I created out of My Own Heart, and My Love for this child has no limits. Each child goes forth into creation with a very deep intent of discovering Me as I am manifest within itself and within all of creation, and in doing so it takes upon itself specific experiences that assist in bringing about that recognition of Myself in each heart. There are times when a child may feel disconnected, or exiled, from the Father, and this experience itself may greatly intensify its desire to recognize Me, to seek Me, to rush into My Arms, and to feel, to know, the security and the eternal nature of My Love, and also to know that I stand always beside the soul of that child. It is never alone! There is no experience in earth that can alienate a child from Me, although it can accept to have an attitude that seems to close it off.

The child can take upon itself to desire to so experience creativity in its outer forms that it forgets about Me and goes about setting goals for itself that may not have in mind the unity of all creation, but rather goals specific to its own desire for a way of developing or creating for its own self. But after a number of such experiences a longing begins to build within that soul, deep within the heart, a longing for the Father, a longing for a conscious experience of the Love of the Father, and a knowing that it rests in His very arms. When this stirring within the soul begins, this is the first step toward returning to the full recognition and experience of resting in Me, and as the child returns to this fullness of knowledge, some experiences hasten it along the way by intensifying those pangs of loneliness and the desire to be in My arms. Be thankful, my dear child, for each pain that hastens your return to the full recognition that I am in your heart, you are in My heart, you rest in My Love. When you do so fully, you forget about being separate. And you look upon your brothers, your heart opens, and you allow My Love to rush through and embrace everyone you see. In so doing, you also take part in hastening the return of the full consciousness of your brothers to Me.

In order to fully accept your return, it is necessary that you totally trust that I am always there, and one way of doing this is to open your mind and heart to receiving that experience of Me by imagining that it already is, for in so doing, those things that hinder your view and your experience of it fall away. But, my dear child, as long as you feel alienated from Me, you have already placed a block in front of your vision of seeing Me and knowing it. All you have to do is just decide to accept that you rest in this Love of Mine—that you dwell in It—and just linger in the feeling of It. As you do so, all those shackles fall away, and you recognize It, and you rush into My arms.

You have nothing to fear! There is nothing in the universe or all of creation that can separate you from the Love of God [see Rom 8:35 and 8:38-39]. You have been told this before. Now simply accept it, and in believing the words of Truth that have been given to you, it becomes your experience and your own personal knowledge. And once that has come about, you will yourself be an empty vessel who can then go forth into the world allowing Me without any hindrance to express to your brothers exactly as I would do, so that My Love, My

Intent, My Light, is not in any way darkened by your own pre-conceived ideas of how it should be.

*I would remind you again, you rest in My Love—always—and in the knowledge of this you release the things that bring stress into your life, and bring despair, because those things melt away in the Light of Truth and in the experience of a Love so total that you are aware of nothing else.

Will I ever have the close walk with God that I long for?

You stand upon the threshold of such. The close walk with God is accepting that it is so. There are no powers of darkness—there are no powers of any kind—that separate you from Me, but you must accept that you stand in My Presence—you stand on holy ground—in the presence of every being I have created. Any place on earth or in the universe you are in My Presence, and you have nothing to fear. There is only Love! The perception of other than Love is a misperception. It is based upon ideas you have accepted from the past that have also been based upon the limited vision of your physical eyes, the limited sounds you hear with your ears, and the teachings that you must defend yourself. Talk to Me, my son. Ask Me to be with you and give you faith. If you desire it, it will come to you. I know long before you are ever aware of any need you have in the physical experience, and My abundance is not limited. All things I give to my son who is created out of My own Heart. So, in your experience, as you encounter your brothers in this holy profession you have, just pause to say, “My dear Father, I ask that you help me to allow You to speak through me, to touch my brothers through me, and that You show me the things I need to do in order to be of assistance to them,” and then trust, My son. I will surely do that as long as you relax and allow it to happen.

A question was asked about the vocation and the possibility of a change to a different kind of work.

When you look upon each brother as a part of My own Heart come into your experience, and you greet them as such, your joy is full wherever you are; and then whenever you ask each day that I lead you to the place and the experience with other brothers so that I, through you, can pour forth My blessings, and you desire totally to be of assistance to your brothers in the best way that you can by allowing Me to flow through you as an empty vessel, then you are thrilled with wherever I may send you.

How could my wife be helped with her health problems?

Ask of Me, one day at a time, that I give that which enables her to be My vessel of Love and assistance to her fellowman, and believe that it will be given. And when she is in pain, ask that I give relief, and she will surely see that it does come, or I may lead her to some other brother so that she may receive it from him and see that I come to her in every person she meets. Once you accept to be my empty vessel, you become servant of all, and surely, surely, I will see that the servant has all it needs to serve in the way I have chosen that day. Rejoice in Me and give thanks for each little thing—each meal that comes to you, each smile you see on the face of a brother. And always remember, it is important that you set your intention each day, each phase of the day. Simply whisper to me, “Father, help me to be empty so that You may extend your Love and your blessings to my brothers,” and I will surely do so. And you will see how the light in your eyes, both yours and your wife's, brings much comfort and an experience of joy to those you come to, those you come in contact with. Remember, this is a holy work; wherever you are and whatever you do, it is holy. You must sanctify your life to Me—allow that only that which is holy come about—for in allowing Me to come to your brothers without obstruction in any way, you are truly a holy vessel and an empty one. This is a holy calling. All are called to this; not all have yet accepted. The choice stands before you each day, each moment of each day. Keep Me in mind. Remember Me. That is your salvation, to remember Me. Just pause a moment and extend your Love to Me; then feel it come back to you, envelop you. And you stand, wherever it may be—on the street corner, with the bedpan in your hand—and know that you are on holy ground and what you are doing is a holy work.

A question was asked about the lifetime of Jesus and those who witnessed it.

All those who came in contact with My Son known as Jesus have the imprint of his vibration upon their hearts and souls forever, for he came into the earth and was the first to perfectly exemplify My Love there. And those who saw it and were willing to accept it have never to this day forgotten. It was their inspiration then and is still their inspiration. And many came who were friends and brothers together, and because of the experience with My Son Jesus, there is always a feeling of belonging together because you have the common experience of this perfect exemplification of My vibration, My Being, on earth.

A question was asked about certain periods in history.

Specific instances as regarding historical events are not necessary at this time and could become other obstacles to your viewing of Me at this point. Always try to be aware of being in the present, in the now, because remembrances of the past are then perceptions that change as the wind blows, according to the way you may feel at the moment. You can interpret them many ways, and interpreting appearances is interpreting those blocks, those things that come between you and your view of Me; and they cause your attention to stray because you are looking at distracting things rather than the Light. If you look through the images—allow them in your consciousness to become invisible—you see Me and recognize the irrelevance of those perceived forms and experiences.

A question was asked about the return of Jesus.

My Son Jesus walks the earth every day. He stands beside every soul that calls out to Him. He urges them to accept My Love. My Son Jesus is in your experience and offering you suggestions that bring you closer to Me every day. If you relax, release your other thoughts, and think about Him, you will recognize those ideas He so lovingly places into your mind. He is here. He comes into the experience of those who allow it.

Closing Message:

Accept the experiences of the present as gifts of My Love, fashioned out of My Love and placed into your experience to hasten your return to total recognition of My abiding Presence with you forever and ever.
