MESSAGE FROM DIVINE LOVE

Great Waves of the Father's Love from the very center of His Heart, the heartbeat of all creation, are flowing forth in vast rhythms in all directions. There is no part of creation that is not flooded with this Love, for out of this Love all things are created. The source of the being of each one is that Love Itself, and that is what each one is. It is the natural expression of each soul to extend this Love and to feel itself in the great flow that comes forth from the Father's Heart. And in recognizing this, all fear vanishes, all feelings of insecurity, and there is a great appreciation for all that you see—all that you encounter. As you look upon your brothers, you have a special feeling of the preciousness of each one. It is such a delight to see another creation that has come forth from the Father's Heart. It is also the nature of your being to touch your brothers—allow that Love to flow forth from the Father through you—and you must be totally empty so that It can flow without any sort of obstruction. And for those who have lost the vision of this Love, it is that touching that awakens the memory deep within of such, so that their souls then turn from looking at things that have closed them off from the Father and turn back toward the Light. As they do so and experience the Love flowing through your heart, they look to you, for they see, and feel, and know the Father's Love flowing through you. And as they look at you, they actually look through you and see the Heart of God. You have no other purpose or reason for being in the earth at this time.

There is a great need in the lives of many of your brothers to have this feeling, this vision, awakened, and many whom you encounter will be very aggressive and negative in the way they treat you, but it is because of their great frustration and feelings of isolation and loneliness that they are expressing in this manner. Your assignment is to always look past those appearances of hate, unappreciation, or self-centeredness, to look straight into the heart where that Flame of Love shines forever—look into the purity of it and acknowledge the Father there. And in so doing, you awaken this in your brothers, simply because you have not acknowledged those other vibrations and have looked for the one, pure, and only true Being that is there. There is much to be done with many brothers who can and will accept this, and you will be led into ways that you might never have suspected. And when the circumstances appear to be very strange and uncomfortable, just pause and say, “Father, show me how this leads to an experience and acknowledgment of your Love for my brothers and myself,” and just wait, just wait patiently and see it unfold, for those who are screaming and fighting may very quickly be awakened to this experience of Love. And you see the mask fall away—the mask that at times seems so hideous falls away—and then you see that you stand in My Presence, for what you see is My Love, My Light, shining so brightly it invites you into their hearts where you commune with Me. And you also rejoice and feel secure and are so pleased that you have the great privilege of being here in the earth at this time to assist those who are in need of just a little beckoning so that they may rejoice and consciously dwell in the Light and the Love, for this is a time of great harvest, and there are many who come at this time expecting to be harvested. They are ready. The fields are white unto harvest, as you have been told [see John 4:35]. You are one of the laborers, and it is a labor of love with many rewards.

Go forth with one purpose, one intent, and that is to acknowledge Me by touching your brothers and watching the shackles fall away as their gaze looks upward and they see only Love and know they are at home in the Father's Heart. And they too then join with you going out into the world and being about My business [see Luke 2:49], that which I have assigned to you, that which I have allowed you to do—and which you also have consciously chosen to do.

Inquiry was made as to procedure to follow in laying on of hands.

The most important element in bringing healing to your brothers is the desire to extend My Love—to allow My Love to go through you. For it is the experience of the Love that allows them to release those things that are the roots of the expressions of pain, sorrow, and frustration within them. It is the feeling of alienation that has brought all this about. Also, keep in mind that pain in many instances is that which motivates your brothers to look toward Me. It reminds them that there is something beyond the outer seeking of pleasure and the creating of things that may not be of much value. So, you come to your brothers, and your intent of extending Love, acknowledging My Presence, is the first thing. The second is to be patient, to touch your brothers in Love, and to consciously know that you are an empty vessel—that you allow My Love, My Light, all healing vibrations, to flow through you and not try to direct the energies or the Love. Allow Me to send them [the energies and Love] wherever it is appropriate, and follow my promptings, which may be to place your hand in a certain place at a particular time and to allow it to stay there for a certain length of time. Trust Me, have faith that it is happening and that all that is asked of you—all that is needed—is that you have the willingness and the intention. You do not have to have other talents in order to do this. The greatest gift of all was placed in your heart, and that was the gift of Love—a Love that looks beyond all things and has no conditions, a love that is willing to look through the mask and see only Holiness, even in those who appear so godless and loveless. That is your gift, the gift of Love—a Love that allows the door to open and allows Me, through you, to bring about all that is appropriate at that time—all that is in accordance with My Will.

You will also have those about you who will help you and who are sent by Me. As long as you have the intention to do My Will, you can trust totally that any angels or other beings who come will be sent by Me and can be trusted. And you can also always expect and know that your blessed Brother and Master known as Jesus will never, ever, forsake you. He is always there extending, expressing, and exemplifying My Love as perfectly as He ever did on earth. So, just relax and know that I lead you to those brothers, or lead them to you, and if your intention has been set, you need not look for ways or try to decide, “What must I say or do?” It will be given to you just as a natural inclination, which may simply be a smile, a touch on the shoulder, or simply saying, “I would like to know how you are today, and I truly hope this is a beautiful day for you.”

A question was asked as to how the inner promptings can be recognized as being from God.

As you have been taught, look for the fruits, the fruits of Love [see Matt 7:16, 20]. If it is an expression of Love, it comes from Me. But also accept that the fruit of Love can sometimes be a gentle and ever so loving “No.” It is not necessary to do all things your brothers ask or think they need done. If you are in doubt, just stop, step back, and allow Me and your Master to take charge, and things will be brought about, circumstances will be arranged. Actually, you don’t have to worry about anything; you don’t have to plan anything. It is all already done. You just follow the promptings, and you will know what they are. They will be irresistible to you because they come from Me, and you will not desire to resist them.

Guidance was sought about caring for an invalid.

Remember, all things have their perfect timing, and I arrange them. What you need to do is to simply be there and in your presence extend love, a gentle love that has no feeling of anxiety or fear. For being anchored in My Love will bring more peace and security to her than all the doings you could ever think up. Just be there, take care of the things that have to be done—just the simple things—and if other things have been arranged that she needs to receive from caretakers, you will know; you will know. And your awareness of the Presence of your blessed Brother and Master will increase, and you will know He walks beside you. He is always there extending Love, being helpful, and also lifting your heart up with His humor, for that is also an expression of my Love.

A question was asked about how to access, when it is appropriate to do so, knowledge of the destiny and the cause of life situations of brothers—when knowing this would be a part of the soul's healing and turning back toward God—and when to convey this to them.

These thoughts will be lovingly placed into your mind, and you will feel the inclination to say things. At times you will have a vision of them. As you look toward Me and approach the Throne of Light, I may hand you a gift, a gift of something that you bring to your brothers, and you will know as you feel anchored in My Love when it is appropriate to open that gift and present it. Be not anxious about this. I know what all your brothers need. I know what you have need of. It is all prepared; it is ready. Your willingness and your intent is what you bring to the altar, and I accept this, for it is a sweet-smelling incense rising up to Me so that I may then return to your brothers. You are another doorway through which I can pour forth these things that help them. That is your function; that is why you are here at this time. And you have chosen to do this. It is through your own experiences and through witnessing the experiences of suffering of others that you have been brought to the point where you can be totally empty and thus be most helpful. Without those experiences you might not have been concerned enough about your brothers to do this. So, as you have been told before, rejoice in all things and give thanks [see I Thes 5:18], for these things have a greater purpose of Love, no matter how they may appear on the earth.

A question was asked about whether kneeling in front of those one would serve when participating in healing work is symbolic or a literal action that should be taken.

It can be both, but even when the situation is not such that physically you might do so, it is also expressed in your manner, for in kneeling you are bringing your gentleness, your true, total concern, your commitment, and your desire to be helpful and bring release to your brothers by helping them to experience the Love. So, even if physically you may not be kneeling, in spirit you have come before them, you acknowledge My Spirit in their hearts, and you are kneeling in admiration. And as you come before the Throne of Grace and ask for your brothers, you also have your arms around them. And you are in this way expressing to them and to Me your desire that they know my Love even as you do. When you ask in My Name, and you are asking for that which is in harmony with My will, it will be given—it is arranged.

The vessel says:

I would like to give thanks to the Father for helping me through the stages that were so painful and difficult and the times when I seemed to be groping in darkness—helping me to always keep the faith that some way, somehow, I would get through it and come to the experience of His Love, so that through these experiences, then, I could better understand my brothers and have greater concern. It was not always easy, and I did not always give thanks for all things. Now I see the wisdom in giving thanks for all things. I thank the Father for His infinite Patience and His Love.
